

Food Safety in Aged Care

Balancing Choice, Risk and Regulation

SYDNEY - WEDNESDAY 22 AUGUST 2018

Food regulations that exist to protect residents in Aged Care, have inadvertently lead to the restriction of their dietary choice. This lack of food choice can contribute to malnutrition and depression amongst aged care clients.

As the Aged Care industry moves toward resident-centred care, we can no longer ignore the increasing conflict between positive resident outcomes and the management of food risk.

In this highly interactive forum, you will have the opportunity to engage with some of Australia's leading professionals to co-design solutions and bridge the gap between food safety and resident choice.

THE PROGRAM

Registration and coffee

Welcome

Cherie Hugo

Andrew Bailey - I'd Rather Die Happy

Co-author and facility manager, Andrew will discuss his research into residents' experiences with food regulations, risk and food choice in residential aged care.

How Much Does Compliance Cost? Risk vs Risk - A Case Study

Colin McDonnell

Interpreting FSANZ Food Standards Code Chapter 3 - without restricting diet

Joe Lederman

Food Safety in Aged Care - Perception vs Reality

John Fallon

Morning Team Break

Interactive Discussion - One Standard. One Risk Assessment.

Get involved to co-design a solution and be part of an industry led initiative to reduce regulatory burden, improve choice and resident care.

OUR SPEAKERS

Dr Cherie Hugo
Founder
The Lantern Project

Andrew Bailey
Facility Manager
Nambucca Valley Care

Colin McDonnell
Dementia Excellence
Practice Leader
Scalabrini

Joe Lederman
Lawyer
Managing Principal of FoodLegal

John Fallon
Food Safety Specialist
Cater Care

Marcia Dwonczyk
Partnerships Broker
Complexability

 CATER CARE

 COMCATER
foodservice equipment

 Dementia Training Australia

THE LANTERN PROJECT

Good Food. Better Health. Aged Care.

DATE Wednesday 22 August (before the Better Practice Conference)
LOCATION Sofitel Sydney Wentworth
TIME 8am Registration and coffee
8:30am - 12:30pm conference
COST $120pp
REGISTER www.thelanternproject.com.au